Communication Board at Leafie Mae's Inclusive Playground:

The City of Kearney Park and Recreation Department worked in partnership with the Kearney Student Speech and Language Hearing Association (KSSLHA) to fundraise and install a communication board at Leafie Mae's Inclusive Playground in Harmon Park. The communication board allows individuals with speech and language disorders to point to an image on the board to communicate to their friends and family. Through this communication board the hope is to decrease language barriers and allow play to happen more freely. KSSLHA is an organization on UNK's campus comprised of students who are majoring in or have an interest in Communication Disorders. Their mission is to advocate and raise awareness for individuals with speech and language disorders, and promote the services provide by speech-language pathologists.
